BY DONNA MACKENZIE

Part history and part rumor, the story of Russian Princess Anastasia Romanov captivated people for decades. Did she in fact survive the execution of her family, her father Tsar Nicholas of Russia, her mother Tsarina Alexandra, her three sisters and her brother on July 17, 1918 in Yekaterinburg by a group of Bolsheviks or were the several women who claimed to be her merely imposters? While her purported survival was conclusively disproven when the remains of the family were found in 1991 and in 2007, her possible survival spawned an animated film in 1997 that became the basis for the musical play Anastasia in 2016.

Lima Christian School will present the musical Anastasia on Friday, March 7 at 7 p.m. and Saturday, March 8 at 2 and 7 p.m. at Honeoye Falls-Lima High School's auditorium.

The show opens with a prologue where in 1906, Dowager Empress Maria Feodorovna comforts her youngest granddaughter, five-year-old Grand Duchess Anastasia who is sad that her grandmother is moving to Paris. Before departing, the Dowager Empress gives Anastasia a music box as a parting gift. Eleven years later, Anastasia is attending a ball with her family when Bolsheviks invade the palace. As they attempt to escape, Anastasia tries to retrieve the music box, only to be captured along with the rest of the family. The Dowager Empress later receives word in Paris that the entire family has been executed. Act I opens with a general for the Bolsheviks, Gleb, announcing that St. Petersburg has been renamed Leningrad. The people protest this change, but are uplifted by a rumor that Anastasia may have survived and escaped the royal family's execution. Two wanted con men, Dmitry and an ex-member of the Imperial Court, Vlad, hear the rumors and brainstorm the "biggest con in history" by grooming a naïve girl to become Anastasia in order to extract money from the Dowager Empress. They hold unsuccessful auditions and are about to give up when a street sweeper named Anya comes in to ask Dmitry about paperwork to get tickets for Paris. They become fascinated when Anya explains she doesn't remember who she is due to amnesia and has very few memories of her past. Amazed by her memory loss and resemblance to Anastasia, they select Anya as their imposter. Three bitter actresses report the plot to Gleb, he dismisses them and files a case for Anya while Vlad and Dmitry groom Anya to become Anastasia through history, dining and dancing lessons. Gleb orders Anya's arrest and when she is brought to his office, he interrogates her and warns her about the consequences of pretending to be Anastasia. In trying to convince Anya that Anastasia is really dead, he reveals that his father was one of the soldiers who shot the Romanovs and as a boy, he heard the gunshots and the family's screams. However, he notices that Anya has the "Romanov eyes" and realizes that Anya could be Anastasia. As he harbors feelings for her, he lets her off with a warning. Is Anya truly Anastasia, does she, Vlad and Dmitry make it to Paris or does Gleb stop them? Come see the show to find out.

"Join the LCS Drama Club on a journey to the past as we bring the story of Anastasia to life on stage," artistic director Bethany Warsaw said. "Follow Anya as she sets out to uncover the truth about her past and identity, traveling from the shadows of revolutionary Russia to the dazzling streets of Paris in search of home, love and family. Through her journey, she discovers 'you can't be anyone unless you first recognize yourself'. You won't want to miss this beautiful, heart-warming story of resilience and hope."

Cast members are Laelynn Parsons (Young Anastasia), Laurel LaBarca (Anya), Molly Teitsworth (Anya understudy), Owen Teitsworth (Dmitry), Joshua Lakra (Vlad), Jordyn Warsaw (Dowager Empress), Olivia Kennell (Countess Lily), Evan Falco (Gleb), Sarah Churnetski (Tsarina Alexandra Romanov), Anthony Hage (Tsar Nicholas/Gorlinsky), Sophia Britton (Olga Romanov/Dunya), Anna Grace LaBarca (Tatiana Romanov/Marfa), Molly Teitsworth

New York State Senator Pam Helming recently hosted a Municipal Clerks Roundtable at Finger Lakes Community College. The Senator invited City, Town and Village Clerks from around the 54th District to learn more about their important work and the challenges they face.

Senator Helming said, "Clerks are truly the hearts of our Town and Village Halls. Their work is extremely important to the overall success of the community they serve. Working together with our Clerks and local municipalities to better serve the community has always been a top priority for me. Thank you to all of our local Clerks for all that you do."

Livingston County Probation Director Lynne Mignemi Earns National Exemplary Public Servant Award

American City & County has named Livingston County Probation Director Lynne Mignemi as a 2024 Exemplary Public Servant.

The annual award recognizes individuals who have made a significant difference in their communities. American City and County recognized Mignemi for her probation work, as well as her efforts in suicide prevention and promoting mental health awareness throughout the county. Mignemi joins a distinguished group of just five other public officials from across the country receiving this year's award.

"Thank you to American City & County for this humbling honor and recognition," said Mignemi. "I became a public servant at age 22 not to be seen, but because I care so deeply. I care deeply about my probation team, the people we serve in Livingston County, my county family and the Suicide Prevention Task Force membership. I am not sure I can put into words how humbled I am for this nomination and recognition."

Mignemi comes from a family with a strong tradition of public service. Her parents, whom she considers exemplary public service role models, inspired her to take on the role of probation director with the county. Her mother was the first female county sheriff in Oneida County and dispatched fire calls for the New Hartford Fire Department from her home until her death. Her father was an Oneida County legislator for multiple terms, amongst other public service positions, and a volunteer fireman. Mignemi's stepmother served as the executive secretary for multiple Oneida County executives.

"I would like to express deep gratitude for my mentors, my probation team and task force members who make me look far better than I deserve, and all the public servants who work in the trenches with me," added Mignemi. "A special thank you to my husband, Tom, and children, Tom, Rachel and Natalie, who have sacrificed more than people know for my career. Their love and support means everything to me."

When she's not leading the Probation Department's 14-member team, Mignemi serves as chair of the Livingston County Suicide Prevention Task Force. In that role, she has championed life-saving initiatives that have addressed serious public health challenges faced by rural communities. Her leadership was instrumental in bringing the innovative Lock & Talk program to New York State in 2021. She helped to make Livingston County the first to adopt this evidence-based initiative aimed at reducing access to lethal means during a mental health

The Quiet Power of Lent

As Lent unfolds across our community, we're reminded of the profound value in temporary sacrifice. Whether you're observing religiously or simply appreciating the principle, there's wisdom in voluntarily going without. In our abundant lives, deliberately choosing to sacrifice—be it chocolate, social media, or cherished habits—reawakens our gratitude and strengthens our resolve.

Lent is about letting go of comfort to gain clarity. In a world of constant noise, this 40-day journey mirrors the rhythms of our farms and families: pruning now for growth later. Sacrifice teaches us resilience, gratitude, and connection—to each other and something bigger.

This practice connects us to something deeper than convenience, teaching patience in our immediate-gratification world. As neighbors forgo small comforts, we collectively rediscover appreciation for life's essentials.

And speaking of sacrifice—don't forget to surrender that precious hour of sleep when you turn your clocks ahead this weekend!

Smiths' Lists: Presidential Promenade ~ That Bullet Would Have Missed You

BY DEB AND TIM SMTH

#16 ~ ABRAHAM LINCOLN
(1861-1865) RANK: #3/45

This week we are continuing our series of excerpts from a project we've written on U.S. presidents. In the project our focus is on the humor, with the history kicking in only on an as-needed basis. How 'bout we take a shot at Abe Lincoln this week; let's be honest, we won't be the first to do that.

We are out to share a few laughs in our Abraham Lincoln component. Our goal throughout this series has actually been to forego historical thoroughness in favor of focusing on the bizarre and fanciful. As far as slavery, the Civil War and the assassination, let it be known that you have just read those words for the last time.

Recently we watched and enjoyed a series on CNN called Lincoln: Divided We Stand. In that series we were impressed by Lincoln's talents as a storyteller and humorist and we made the decision right then and there to make that the focus of our Sentinel component. With that in mind, hit it Abe…

FLESH WOUND ~ Particularly memorable were Lincoln's words to a young woman whose deep interest in a hospitalized soldier led her to press the question, "Where were you wounded?" The infantryman, who had been shot through the testicles, repeatedly deflected her inquiry with the answer, "At Antietam."

After asking the president to assist her, Lincoln spoke privately with the soldier and then took the young woman aside to clarify the situation. He took her hands and explained, "My dear girl, the bullet that hit him, would have missed you."

The soldier, ashamed, won't come true
To the girl, Lincoln told what he knew
"one of life's spectacles
shot in the testicles
It's a fact, that same shot would miss you"

VINTAGE DRESS ~ Our next Lincoln story is a classic called "The Old Kiss." He knew a man who was a great collector of Revolutionary War relics. The collector heard that a certain elderly lady had a vintage dress which she had worn during the Revolutionary War. He made a special visit to this lady and asked her if she could show him the dress because if it was old, he would be interested in buying it.

She obliged him by opening a drawer and bringing out the article in question. The relic hunter took the old dress and kissed it in hearty admiration. The practical old lady rather resented such foolishness over an old piece of wearing apparel and she offered the following perky reply, "Stranger, if you want to kiss something old, you should really kiss my ass. It is sixteen years older than the dress."

GENERAL GRANT ~ This story involves Lincoln's military leader, General Ulysses S. Grant, who was known to be a notoriously avid drinker. While Grant's opponents liked to use this against him, Lincoln didn't seem to mind.

On one occasion when a congressman complained about Grant's drinking, Lincoln responded by asking what kind of whiskey Grant preferred. "I urged them to ascertain and let me know," Lincoln later said, "for if it made fighting generals like Grant, I should like to get some of it for all my commanders."

And here's a hat trick of Lincoln one-liners…

* How many legs does a dog have if you call the tail a leg? Four. Calling a tail a leg doesn't make it a leg.
* We can complain because rose bushes have thorns, or rejoice because thorn bushes have roses.
* No matter how much cats fight, there always seems to be plenty of kittens.

This brings us to the halfway point in our legacy of Lincoln. Next week we'll do a shot of whiskey in honor of General Grant and share the second half of the Lincoln story. Lincoln has some old-fashioned "skirts are up/pants are down" sex-in-the-barn humor you won't want to miss.

County Executives Share Insights and Solutions to Issues Impacting New Yorkers at the Local Level

The New York State County Executives' Association convened in Albany in December 2024 ahead of Governor Hochul's State of the State address for a strategic conference addressing critical issues impacting New Yorkers at the local level.

The bipartisan group of county executives from across the state focused on several urgent priorities, including ending unfunded state mandates, improving the distribution of state and federal emergency disaster aid, supporting homeless families, investing in infrastructure to enable housing and business development, and addressing the community healthcare crisis affecting nursing homes and hospitals.

Collaborative Problem-Solving

This annual meeting provides a forum for county leaders to preview the state's legislative and budgetary priorities while sharing insights and strategies to tackle challenges within their communities.

"This is an opportunity for all county executives to come together, raise awareness of pressing issues, find common ground, and collaborate on ways to better serve our communities," said Broome County Executive Jason Garnar, president of the New York State County Executives' Association.

Enhancing Emergency Response

A key focus of the discussion was improving state and federal support for emergency response and recovery, especially in light of increasingly frequent severe weather events.

Orange County Executive Steve Neuhaus recounted his experience managing a 5,000-acre forest fire that tragically resulted in a fatality. He highlighted the critical role of mutual aid and swift resource deployment in controlling the blaze. Similarly, Oneida County Executive Anthony Picente detailed the extensive damage caused by two tornadoes, which took a significant toll on homeowners, businesses, and local governments.

"We moved $5 million overnight to assist with recovery efforts because the City of Rome lacked the capacity to respond effectively," said Picente. "The state's response was inadequate, and this must be addressed by both the Governor and federal leaders. We need a better mechanism to provide relief to communities during natural disasters."

Suffolk County Executive Ed Romaine stressed the importance of collective responsibility: "Disasters happen. When they do, we must all come together to rebuild. Federal and state governments must step up to a greater degree—it's common sense that we're all in this together."

Supporting Homeless Families

The homelessness crisis, particularly among families, was another key topic. Executives described efforts to provide immediate housing support through the use of hotels as shelters, despite the challenges of high costs and limited capacity.

"We have an unprecedented number of unhoused residents, including entire families living in cramped motel rooms at great expense," said Ulster County Executive Jen Metzger. "It's a broken system that demands comprehensive reform."

Counties are also working to enhance services for homeless families, including access to healthcare, transportation to schools, and human services to support their transition into stable housing.

Investing in Infrastructure

The group underscored the critical need for infrastructure investments to address housing shortages and fuel economic growth. Monroe County Executive Adam Bello highlighted his county's success in securing funding for a new transformer to support both a manufacturing facility and housing development.

"Modernizing the electrical infrastructure is essential to meet the growing demand for housing and attract new businesses and Governor Hochul has assured us this is a priority of the state," Bello noted.

Tackling the Healthcare Crisis

Executives also addressed the severe shortage of nursing home and hospital beds, which is straining healthcare systems statewide. They called for innovative solutions and increased funding to ensure communities have access to essential healthcare services.

A Unified Vision

"New York's county leaders bring valuable experience from living and working in our communities," said NYSCEA President Garnar. "We're ready to partner with state and federal officials to find practical solutions that move our communities forward."

The meeting concluded with a renewed commitment to collaboration and advocacy for the resources and policies needed to address these pressing challenges and improve the lives of all New Yorkers.

The Carosa Commentary

Media Literacy Will Destroy Civilization

A long time ago, in a galaxy not so far away, the idea of bringing computers into classrooms emerged as a real possibility. More than a possibility, it presented a strong controversy. "The kids lack the media literacy to judge what is real and what is make believe," cried concerned citizens.

This was back in the 1990s. I was on what was then called the HF-L Technology Committee because of my computer background (and also because, as Town Board school liaison, I had to be on some committee). Today, those complaints seem naïve. And they were. But not for reasons you think.

It turns out secondary school students aren't the only perpetrators of media illiteracy. We all are. From kids falling for internet hoaxes, to adults trusting what they hear and read from news outlets, to everyone thinking all sorts of things they read on social media are true and need to be repeated, media illiteracy represents a pervasive disease.

What is media illiteracy? It's believing everything you read, hear, or see at face value. It's the lack of critical thinking when confronted with "facts" (or, increasingly, "fact checks"). It's always been around. The internet has just made its impact spread like wildfire.

And, of course, it's dangerous. It's manipulative (when it tricks you into voting the wrong way) and potentially deadly (when it suggests medical advice without adequate warnings).

The news doesn't get any better.

The cure for media illiteracy might be worse than the disease.

Before we get there, let's talk about the phenomenon known as "Gell-Mann Amnesia effect." The story goes that a physicist Murray Gell-Mann spent each day happily consuming news from his favorite paper. One day, he happened upon an article on physics, a subject near and dear to his heart. He was flummoxed by the number of errors in the piece. "I'll never believe another story this rag writes about physics!" he declared. But then added, "The rest of the stuff, though, I can believe that."

The truth is, if the media makes errors on a subject you know a lot about, why would you believe it doesn't make errors on the stuff you don't know about? Obviously, you shouldn't believe that, but most people do. In effect, this selective skepticism leads to blind spots that allow misinformation to creep in.

So, what's the solution? You're most certainly thinking, "We must view every piece of news with a large dose of doubt."

> "The truth is, if the media makes errors on a subject you know a lot about, why would you believe it doesn't make errors on the stuff you don't know about?"

On its face, a good dose of skepticism seems like the path towards media literacy. You can see where it offers benefits. It encourages you to question narratives, seek alternative (as in opposing) viewpoints, and creates a process where you automatically verify facts before believing anything.

Aye, there lies the rub.

What happens if you take skepticism too far? For the 1960s generation (that would be Baby Boomers when they were young), the mantra "question everything" ruled the day. (For those not in the Baby Boomer generation, "mantra" was in the 1960s what "meme" is today.) In fact, not less than stand-up philosopher George Carlin once said, "Don't just teach your children to read. Teach them to question what they read. Teach them to question everything."

But if you question everything, where does that lead you? The horror stories of hippie communes gone bad provide the bottom line. A place that questions every belief has no rules. And a place that has no rules is ruled by anarchy. And anarchy leads to cultural extinction, the end of the world as we know it, if you will.

If we extend skepticism beyond the media—if we question everything—society begins to unravel. If you doubt everything, you reject family traditions, religious and spiritual teachings, and shared cultural ideals—all things that bind families, communities, and nations. Extreme skepticism leads to the collapse of civilization. Families disintegrate when they no longer see the importance of their common background. Communities wither away when the moral framework that once held them together erodes in the fury of agnostic disarray. Entire nations fall when their citizens abandon the very ideals that once united them.

Extreme skepticism strips the mores that bind us down to their human imperfections. It ignores the cultural and ethical glue these commonalities provide.

Allow me to offer one example which I'm thinking you're a subject expert on (assuming you passed 11th grade American History). We're familiar with the ideals the Founding Fathers instilled within the new nation they created. The reach for those ideals became the basis of the American Dream (on a personal level) and American Exceptionalism (on a national level). They echo vibrantly through the first couple of centuries of our nation, teaching generations the importance of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

As an aside, any honest scholar will tell you that philosophy isn't wholly American in nature. George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, et al. merely followed the advice proffered by the European Enlightenment, which championed the rights of man over government. And those ideas can be traced all the way back to Aristotle. Each of these parties modestly deferred to the wisdom of their predecessors. So, in the end, this thing we call "American Exceptionalism" really had its roots in Europe. In fact, it was a European—Alexis de Tocqueville, the French political scientist and historian who wrote Democracy in America describing his sojourn through the United States in the early 19th century—who first used the term "exceptional" to describe America.

And that's the way things stood until the mantra of the 1960s called up its youth to "Question Everything." This extreme skepticism reframed the Framers. No longer seen in terms of the ideal of liberty which it had espoused since 1776, extreme skeptics viewed American history solely through a critical lens. Today, a generation of students hasn't learned to celebrate American Exceptionalism. Instead, they've been taught to define our nation only by its past sins. Unfortunately, in the act of doing this, our nation is throwing away the principles that have allowed it to grow and improve.

This is how you destroy a nation. This is how you destroy civilization. Media literacy, taken to an extreme, is no different than extreme skepticism. It can unintentionally strip out the basic facts and fill the void with yet another form of misinformation.

I won't get into the whole "History vs. Historiography" debate because that rabbit hole merits its own Commentary. Suffice it to say, the dichotomy presented in that debate is an offshoot of extreme skepticism. Bluntly, if you want to maintain accuracy and understanding regarding the thoughts and reasons behind historical actions, you must rely solely on evidence from that period. Introducing modern perspectives will bias your understanding of the true legacy of the past. It's the only way to attain the most accurate historical scholarship.

But let's return to our original question regarding media literacy. It's apparent both extremes are bad. With no media literacy—100% media illiteracy—people can fall victim to the slightest of propaganda schemes. We can't have that. With 100% media literacy—extreme skepticism—we aggressively question our valued institutions, destroying their validity in the process, and causing the collapse of civilization. We can't have that, either.

So, what's the solution?

Consider the American founding story. Taken at face value, it is uplifting: A group of revolutionaries dared to defy a global superpower and created a new nation based on liberty and self-governance. It is a story of courage, idealism, and triumph.

But apply extreme skepticism, and suddenly, the entire narrative collapses. The Founding Fathers were flawed. The system they created was imperfect (by their own standards). There were injustices (by today's standards).

A healthy media-literate person, however, can hold both perspectives. Yes, the Founding Fathers had faults. But their ideas—freedom, democracy, and human rights—were revolutionary. The American story is not one of perfection but of progress. Perhaps, in that way, it is also what makes America exceptional.

So how do we improve media literacy without destroying civilization? The answer lies in balancing skepticism with acceptance. Call it "healthy skepticism." If only Murray Gell-Mann knew this.

Oddly enough, Comedian Bill Murray provided an excellent example of how to avoid the Gell-Mann Amnesia effect. He recently spoke to Joe Rogan about his immediate reaction to Bob Woodward's 1984 book Wired: The Short Life & Fast Times of John Belushi. He said in the interview, "When I read Wired—the book written by, what's his name, Woodward—about Belushi, I read like five pages, and I went, 'Oh my God. They framed Nixon.' If this is what he writes about my friend that I've known for half of my adult life—which is completely inaccurate—talking to the people of the outer circle getting the story, what the hell could they have done to Nixon? I acknowledge I only read five pages, but the five pages I read made me want to set fire to the whole thing. Those five pages, I went, 'If he did this to Belushi, what he did to Nixon is probably soiled for me, too.'"

Clearly, comedian Murray shows he's more media literate than physicist Murray.

Healthy skepticism means questioning without dismissing. It means asking questions but also recognizing the importance of a shared ethic. It allows us to see failings without losing faith in the institutions that hold society together.

The next time you read a news story, remember the Gell-Mann Amnesia effect. Recognize that the media is imperfect, but so is absolute skepticism. Somewhere in between, there is a wisdom that demands you to trust (a little), but verify (a lot).

The survival of civilization depends on finding it.

Mignemi has also dedicated herself to fostering connection and healing within the community for those affected by suicide or an unexpected death. Along with Task Force members Diane Deane, Maxi Wachholder and Janet Craft, Mignemi helped establish the Step by Step Support Group, a safe space for those grieving the loss of a loved one who took their own life or have experienced sudden death. The group meets to talk, share resources, listen to speakers, and engage in activities designed to support and help members grieve and process their loss alongside others experiencing the same.

Similarly, her involvement in organizing events like the annual Overdose and Suicide Awareness Candlelight Vigil underscores her dedication to raising awareness, reducing stigma, and offering hope to those impacted by loss. The event, held at Al Lorenz Park, is an evening of hope and reflection for those who've lost a loved one to suicide or overdose. Each year, Mignemi selflessly helps organize and promote the community healing event.

The editors of American City & County stated, "Our Exemplary Public Servants personify dedication to making the lives of constituents better. When looking at the nominees, Lynne Mignemi stood out thanks to her championing initiatives related to the mental health and wellbeing of the people in her community. Fighting the stigma of mental health issues, creating safe spaces for open conversations and offering support for those who are at their darkest time truly saves lives."

Beyond her work in suicide prevention, Mignemi has been involved in improving transportation access through her contributions to the Livingston County Transportation Committee. She helped launch Here2There.help, a user-friendly mobility management tool that connects residents across Livingston, Monroe, and Ontario counties with reliable transportation options. The mobility management tool has broadened access to essential services for vulnerable populations and enhanced the quality of life for many county residents.

No stranger to accolades, Mignemi was named the 133rd Assembly District Woman of the Year by the New York State Legislative Women's Caucus in 2023. The award honors and pays tribute to women who have made significant contributions to their communities and who inspire others through their model citizenship. She was also the first county employee to become a finalist in the 1st Annual Athena International Award from the Livingston County Chamber of Commerce in 2023. Nominated by retired Livingston County Court Judge Jerry Alonzo, the award honors women for their dedication to community, professionalism and leadership.

"Lynne exemplifies the very best of what we mean when we say public service," said Livingston County Board Chair David LeFeber. "On behalf of the board, I join in congratulating her for her outstanding and compassionate work. She's made a tremendous difference in the lives of our residents and we're fortunate to have her leadership here in our county."

Risto's Final "Guest" Submission

(abridged by Paul S. Worboys)

Welp, my friend, Risto Marttinen, surprised me again. Thinking he was done feeding me items about family experiences, he finally offered up his most emotionally-wrought photos… especially of his only two siblings, who barely lived into their twenties. In a variety of formats, a portrait, newspaper and magazine clippings, my efforts to better appreciate this man's story have crystallized.

Risto's latest 'submission' to PSW, March 1st, 2025:
(Collage designed by PSW)

The loss of his brothers, Pekka and Hannu, dying suddenly merely months apart at ages 24 and 21, had been beyond my capacity to understand the depths of his grief. Other than hints of marital problems and A.A. meetings, I simply did not know my buddy's backstory. Until recent years, I did not ask, nor did he offer to tell, what made him tick.

According to K.M. Weiland's, "Helping Writers Become Authors": A "backstory" is basically self-explanatory. It is the story following the real story… an unseen history that informs all of your characters' decisions and actions. Particularly in the modern era of writing, notes Weiland, a well-developed backstory is every whit as important as the story itself.

From our first adventures in northern Virginia in the mid-1970s, until we reconnected in central Kentucky a dozen years ago, Risto camouflaged his range of deep-seated anguish in a variety of heavy physical activities. Fortunately, his Seniors Writing Class, joined after he moved to be near his daughter's family in Lexington around 2010, offered him a Genie's Bottle of sorts. Henceforth, he prolifically poured out more than kitchen recipes and musings on rambling in the woods.

Pekka was an army man, a tank commander, until a shell exploded within his training tank, killing himself and two others. He would never see his first-born ((in utero for two more months), nor enjoy a first anniversary with his wife. Like his father, he would have fashioned a fine military career. Look at his photo… his handsome good looks could have opened doors wherever he roamed.

Then there was Hannu, very popular in high school, with musical talent and a stage presence the envy of classmates. However, having a history of sudden seizures, he swallowed his tongue and died one night, just eighteen months after Pekka was killed. A second handsome son was taken from family and friends…at the threshold of a budding life… in music, as a military man, or in an array of possibilities.

Served as Colonel In U.S., Finland

Col. A. K. Marttinen USA, ret., died of cancer Saturday at Northern Virginia Doctor's Hospital. He was 67.

Col. Marttinen, who lived at 6314 Anneliese Dr., Falls Church, retired from the army in 1968.

He was born in Tornio, Finland, graduated from the Finnish military academy in Helsinki and served for 20 years in the Finnish army, rising to the rank of colonel, before fleeing to the United States in 1945.

He was driven out of Finland for anti-Communist activities, which were considered intolerable because of Finland's dependency on its giant neighbor, the Soviet Union.

He joined the U.S. Army as a private in 1947 and was assigned to be an instructor in mountain and cold-weather fighting at the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. He moved through the ranks rapidly, going from private to master sergeant to lieutenant colonel in just a few years.

He subsequently held regimental commands in the United States and West Germany and he served as an adviser to the Korean Army in 1963 and 1964 and to the Iranian Army in 1967-68.

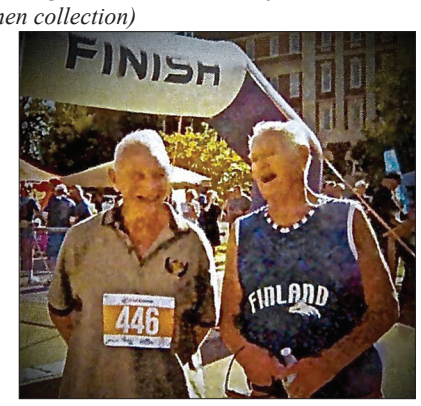

Col. Marttinen was a graduate of the Army War College and held the Legion of Merit. After retirement, he served as president of the Finlandia Foundation.

Survivors include his widow, Miriam; a son, Risto, of 1319 South Munroe St., Arlington, a brother in Tornio, Finland, and three grandchildren.

having become American citizens, remained emotionally connected to Finland. After retiring from his second career with the U.S. Army (the first being with the Finnish Army) Alpo became president of the Finlandia Foundation, with the intention of returning to a family plot in Tornio, Finland upon his passing.

However, with the sudden death of his eldest son, whose widow was raised in the Fort Leavenworth area of Kansas, that is where a new family plot began. Risto, as the "Sole Surviving Son" and unable to enlist because of that status, will not be there, however… failing to countermand the rules of military bureaucracy.

One day, in the far distant future, he will be interred in Lexington, Kentucky. Being the only surviving member of that nuclear family, yet disconnected from the family's cemetery plot, Risto Marttinen is at least deserving of a military style 21-gun salute.

HF-M Rotary Casino raises funds for Scout House roof

More than 65 people had some fun last Saturday night at this year's Rotary Casino, held at Westminster Weddings & Events in the Hamlet of Mendon as the photos above and below show. There was music, food, and, of course, titillating games of chance - and all for a good cause. Funds raised at the event are going to replace the roof at the Scout House at Harry Allen Park. Sentinel Photos

New Sustainability Training for Landscaping Professionals Set for March 11-13

Landscaping professionals will gather in Davenport, NY, on March 11–13 for a groundbreaking training on how to use native plants and support natural habitats. As homeowners, business owners, and municipalities become more concerned about taking action for the climate, this conference will give landscapers tools to support the ecosystem through their work.

The training and endorsement program is called HELP, which stands for Habitat and Ecosystems Land Pro training. This training will be held at Hartwick College's Pine Lake Environmental Campus in Davenport, NY—a location committed to environmental sustainability and ecological awareness. The HELP conference is the result of a collaboration between the Delaware-Otsego Audubon Society and the Theodore Roosevelt Sanctuary & Audubon Center.

The HELP training is the first of its kind offered in upstate New York, and the framework has only recently been developed by Joyann Cirigliano, who is a Senior Coordinator of Bird-Friendly Communities at the Theodore Roosevelt Sanctuary & Audubon Center. Joyann has recently taught this material on Long Island and in southern Connecticut, with portions streamed in Zoom.

Joyann says about the program, "By working with landscape architects, design-and-install companies, and parks and municipal work crews and staff, we can effectively reclaim lost habitat at scale, instead of the previous 'one yard at a time' model."

The Delaware-Otsego Audubon Society felt it was important to share this material with a wider audience, making it available to landscape professionals in all of upstate New York as well as surrounding regions, such as Vermont, Pennsylvania, and Western Massachusetts. The training will be offered both in-person and with a hybrid Zoom option—although in-person attendance will be required on the conference's final day, when the training will focus on field instruction and workshops on site at the Pine Lake Environmental Campus.

Susan O'Handley, Education Chair of Delaware-Otsego Audubon Society Board of Directors, expressed her excitement about organizing this training: "The exponential impact of working with landscape professionals has the potential to create acres of quality habitat for birds and pollinators in urban, suburban and rural regions, and providing the opportunity to monetize these natural ecological practices can provide support for faster adoption."

Landscaping professionals who attend this training have the opportunity to earn continuing education credits as well as become endorsed and listed on a collection of online resources associated with the HELP program.

Registration for the upstate New York HELP training is open now and will remain open until all fifty spots are filled. Anyone interested in more information is encouraged to visit the web address www.doas.us/help.

Brighton/HF-L/Eastridge hockey falls to top seed Hilton

The Brighton/Honeoye Falls-Lima/Eastridge Varsity Ice Hockey team earned its first sectional tournament win in several years this season, but that momentum did not carry over into its quarterfinal game against the top seed.

Brighton/HF-L/Eastridge earned the #8 seed in the Section V Class A Tournament and beat #9 seed WFL by a 4-1 margin on February 19. The Bruins jumped on the scoreboard first when HF-L senior Emmet Landt scored while the team was skating on the power play after an interference penalty on WFL, assisted by Eastridge senior Josh Verna. WFL tied the score but Brighton junior Patrick Rohr scored off assists from Landt and HF-L senior Matthew Brassie to give the Bruins a 2-1 lead after the first period. Landt scored a pair of goals, just over a minute apart, in the second period. HF-L senior Carson Meehan assisted on one goal and HF-L senior Natalie Loncz and Brighton senior Drew Zobel assisted on the other. Brighton senior goalie Ryan Hurwitz handled 24 saves. Brighton/HF-L/Eastridge had a 34-25 shot advantage.

"We just lost to them a week before and we had every opportunity to win that game," Bruins coach Grady Monks said. "We scored early in the first period and played a complete game this time. HF-L sophomore Jason Bennett played very well on defense."

Hilton, the #1 seed in Class A, shut out the Bruins 6-0 in the quarterfinal on February 21. Although Brighton/HF-L/Eastridge battled the Cadets to a scoreless tie in the first period, that did not last long. Hilton rattled off five goals in the second period within an 11 minute span, including one on the power play after a hooking penalty. The Cadets added their sixth goal in the third period while on the power play after a tripping penalty. Hilton dominated the puck with a 65-21 shot advantage. Hurwitz made 59 saves.

"Hilton was the #1 seed and had a 19-1 record," Monks said. "We did well in the first period, keeping them scoreless in the first period. But, Hilton scored on the power play and then things snowballed on us. Ryan did an amazing job. We kept battling the entire game. I am very proud of the kids and was honored to be their coach. They did everything that the coaching staff asked them to do."

Brighton/HF-L/Eastridge finished with an 8-13-1 record. There were eight seniors on the team, Ryan Hurwitz, Brandon Taccia and Drew Zobel from Brighton; Josh Verna from Eastridge and four from HF-L.

Matthew Brassie competed on varsity for five seasons. A co-captain, Brassie was a defenseman and had three goals (tied for fourth on the team) and nine assists (third on the team) for 12 points (fourth on the team).

Emmet Landt finished a great three-year varsity career. Landt was a forward and was the Bruins' leading scorer this season as he led the team in goals with 31 and in assists with 20 and had a team-high of 51 points.

Natalie Loncz played on varsity for three seasons. Loncz was a forward and was tied for fourth on the team with three goals and tied for fourth on the team with eight assists for 11 points (fifth on the team).

Carson Meehan was on varsity for three years. Meehan was a forward and was third on the team in goals with five and second on the team in assists with 11 and ended up third on the team in points with 16.

HF-L wrestlers put the wraps on great season

BY DONNA MACKENZIE

There was no finer way to finish up the 2024-2025 season for the Honeoye Falls-Lima Varsity Wrestling team than seeing one of their members up on the championship podium at the New York State Public High School Athletic Association state tournament.

HF-L sent three wrestlers to the state Division 2 tournament on February 28-March 1. Junior Chris Noto won the 131-pound title. He received a bye in the first round, won by technical fall 16-0 in the second round, won by technical fall 17-0 in the quarterfinals, took a 7-4 decision in the semifinals and won the championship bout with a 12-4 major decision. Jacob McVige placed second at 145 pounds. He received a bye in the first round, won by pin in the second round, won by technical fall 19-2 in the quarterfinals and won an 11-4 decision in the semifinals before dropping a 4-2 decision in the title match. Waylan Winseman placed fourth at 152 pounds. He received a bye in the first round, won a 14-0 major decision in the second round, took a 9-5 decision in the quarterfinals, lost a 5-1 decision in the semifinals, won by pin in the consolation semifinals and lost an 8-7 decision in the third/fourth place match.

"We thought all three had a shot of being in the finals and we wound up with two of them making the finals," coach Scott Winseman said. "Chris is the best wrestler in the state. Jacob fell just a bit short at 145 pounds, but I am proud of the work he put in this year. Waylan had a great season. The results for the team for the season have been incredible, starting with the Monroe County League Championship and the Windsor Tournament Championship, both for the first time, in consecutive weeks. It has been the culmination of a decade of hard work. This was a great group of seniors."

HF-L finished the season with a 5-0 record in league dual meets and also captured the Monroe County League Championship, the Windsor Tournament Championship, the Hornell Tournament Championship and the Section V Class B1 Championship. There were four seniors on the squad this season.

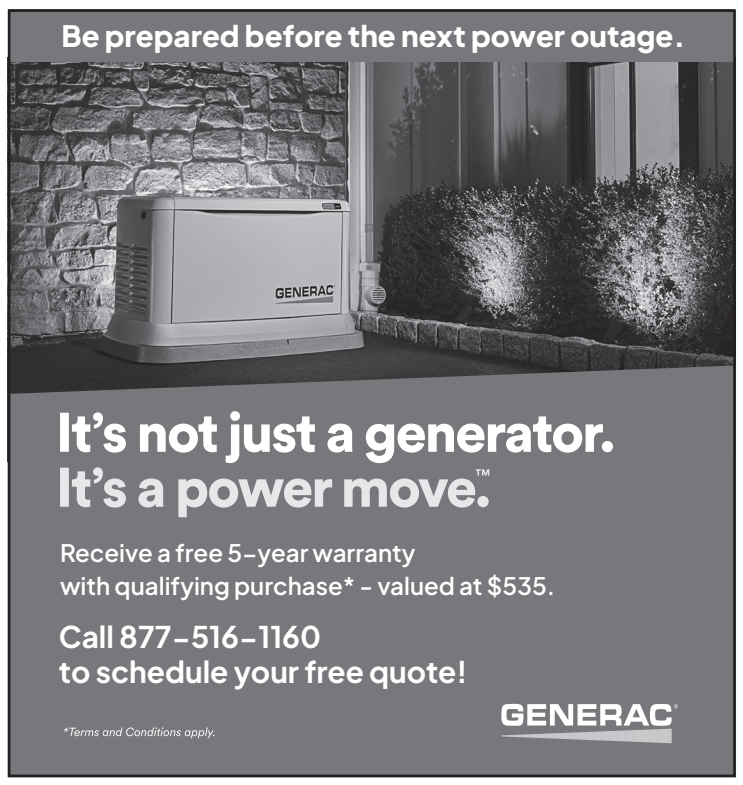

Owen Englert was on the varsity for four years. Englert usually wrestled at 190 pounds and had a 40-11 record this season.

Carsen Montone wrestled on varsity for five seasons. Montone usually wrestled at either 131 or 138 pounds and had a 28-9 record.

Gabe Wastowicz spent five seasons on varsity. Wastowicz most often wrestled at either 160 or 170 pounds and had an 11-10 record.

Waylan Winseman finished a terrific six-year varsity career. Winseman usually wrestled at the 152 pound weight class and had a 39-9 record this season.

Spartan Hockey finishes 11-9-1

BY DONNA MACKENZIE

The Spartan Hockey team did not have the lucky bounce of the puck in its Section V tournament game against Portside as Spartan Hockey bowed out of the tournament.

Fifth-seeded Spartan Hockey, composed of players from Gates Chili, Rush-Henrietta, Wayne and Wheatland-Chili, fell 3-0 to #4 seed Portside in the quarterfinal round of the Section V Class A Tournament on February 21. Portside scored twice in the first period and added its third goal in the second period. Spartan Hockey had 24 shots on goal while Portside had 30. Spartan Hockey goalie Logan Swartzenberg made 27 saves.

"Unfortunately, the game did not go our way," Spartan Hockey coach Joe Jehlen said. "We had plenty of chances but credit Portside for persevering against the pressure we put on them. They are a good team as shown by how they upset top seed Hilton."

Spartan Hockey finished with an 11-9-1 record. The seniors on the squad were Oliver Sunday from Gates Chili, Mason Davey, Cole Flannery, Parker Monette and Ryan Prusak, all from R-H, and Grady Emo and Logan Swartzenberg, both from Wayne.

Wheatland-Chili freshman goalie Evan Farrell appeared in one game, earning a win over Brighton/Honeoye Falls-Lima/Eastridge as he allowed just three goals and made 16 saves for a .842 save percentage.

"We had a very good season and I am proud of the team and the kids for all of their efforts," Jehlen said. "This season was very enjoyable. We had a good group of young men with great seniors and leaders on the team and we have lots of young good players moving forward."

W-C girls basketball plays well but falls in sectional tournament

BY DONNA MACKENZIE

The Wheatland-Chili Girls Varsity Basketball team did a tremendous job on defense but the Wildcats struggled to find the range on offense in the Section V tournament.

W-C, seeded #13, dropped a 47-32 contest to #4 seed Arkport-Canaseraga in the first round of the Section V Class C2 Tournament on February 26. Arkport shot its way into a 17-8 lead after the first quarter thanks to sinking five 3-pointers. The Lady Wildcats trailed 28-14 at halftime. Arkport expanded its lead to 38-22 at the end of the third quarter. Vanessa Guerrero netted 12 points, Whitney Thrush 10, Jaeda Mekker 6 and Ashanti Caton 4. Mekker snagged 13 steals and grabbed six rebounds. Thrush also pulled down six rebounds.

"Arkport had five 3-pointers in the first quarter, but our girls limited them after that," coach Chad Annis said. "Arkport averaged 61 points a game during the regular season and we held them to 47. We knew we would have our hands full as their three top players averaged 43 points combined, so our gameplan was to limit them and make the other players beat us. We allowed their top 3 players a combined 16 points, so to their credit other players on their team stepped up. We just were not able to score enough. They are a big, physical team. The girls worked so hard. By the end of the game, we felt that we achieved something and were very optimistic that we could hang with them. We definitely improved this season and we have a junior varsity team."

W-C finished with a 4-17 record. There were no seniors on the squad.

W-C boys basketball defeats #6 Arkport-Canaseraga in sectional quarterfinals

BY DONNA MACKENZIE

The Wheatland-Chili Boys Varsity Basketball team took its first step toward a possible Section V title with a victory in the quarterfinal round last week.

W-C, seeded third, defeated #6 Arkport-Canaseraga 50-36 in the Section V Class C3 Tournament quarterfinal round on February 28. The Wildcats had a strong start and took a 16-14 lead after the first quarter. Behind seven points from Jackson Semmel in the second quarter, W-C extended its lead to 29-20 at halftime. Wheatland widened its advantage to 43-27 at the end of the third quarter. Leighton Williams swished 24 points. Semmel hit for 14 points. A'nari Trotter added 5 points, Kiev Elzey 4, Junior Kamara 2 and Tremane Mcnair-Scales 1.

"Tremane is a seventh-grader and one of five players I pulled up from junior varsity so it was his first varsity point," coach Matthew Cook said. "All five of them got in the game and got some experience. Leighton had a good start in the first quarter and Arkport-Canaseraga focused on him after that. We changed our offensive set and Jackson took advantage of it. Defensively we gave up 14 points in the first quarter, but just 13 points total for the second and third quarters combined. We switched Leighton on to their best player and Leighton did a good job of making sure he did not get to his favorite spot on the floor and get set up. Ben and Junior played some big moments as Kiev eventually fouled out and A'nari had four fouls and Leighton three. Junior has come on down the stretch and Ben does a lot of the little things that we need someone to do for us to be successful."

W-C faced #2 seed South Seneca in the semifinals on March 3. If the Wildcats won, they would play in the Class C3 final on March 7.

"I was talking with some students at the end of last year and many said they loved the show," Bethany Warsaw said when asked why she selected the show. "It has that typical musical theatre vibe. It has a princess but also a girl trying to figure out who she is as a person. The students have really loved doing a show that has historical roots, researching the characters and their actual stories. They've also enjoyed doing a story that is based on a rumor and have really gravitated toward their characters."

Doing this type of show does present certain challenges, Warsaw said.

"Because of its historical aspect, the costumes need to be historically accurate," she stated.

The show will be entered into the Rochester Broadway Theatre League's (RBTL) Stars of Tomorrow program that recognizes high school musical theater in the Rochester area.

Tickets for the show are $8 students and $10 adults and can be purchased online at https://seatyourself.biz/limachristian or at the school office or at the door (cash or check only at the door).

HF-L Alpine Ski teams celebrate achievements

BY DONNA MACKENZIE

The Honeoye Falls-Lima Girls and Boys Varsity Alpine Ski team members saw improvement throughout the 2024-2025 season and concluded the year by sending one of the Cougars to the state championship.

Harper Jacob represented the Lady Cougars at the New York State Public High School Athletic Association Alpine Ski Championship on February 24-25 at Gore Mountain. Jacob finished 32nd in the giant slalom with a first run time of 1 minute, 7.13 seconds and a second run time of 1:04.19 for a two-run total of 2 minutes, 11.32 seconds. Jacob had better success the second day of the championship in the slalom as she placed 16th with a first run time of 44.08 seconds and a second run of 50.23 seconds for a two-run total of 1 minute, 34.31 seconds.

"It was a great finish to the season for her," HF-L coach Pete Hotchkiss said. "She won the Section V Class B Championship in giant slalom and did well enough in slalom to make it to the state meet in both events. The first day at states was the giant slalom and it was windy and the snow was soft which made the course tough. She came back strong in the slalom race the next day, which was just fantastic."

HF-L's girls had a 12-60 overall record and placed fifth as a team at the Section V Class B Championship. The Cougar boys had a 10-74 overall record and came in seventh as a team at the Section V Class A Championship. There were no seniors on either squad.

"I am looking forward to having this whole group back and seeing how far they can go," Hotchkiss said. "Next season could be a big season for us if both teams continue to improve like they did this year. The girls had a great time at sectionals and the boys also had a good season."

Livingston County Offers Code Blue Warming Center for Residents in Need

The Livingston County Department of Social Services (DSS), in partnership with Catholic Charities Steuben/Livingston, has opened the area's first Code Blue warming center on the County's Murray Hill Campus.

Intended to provide a safe place for unhoused individuals 18 and older to stay during harsh winter weather, the new warming center operates from 4 p.m. to 8 a.m. when temperatures are forecasted to fall below 32 degrees Fahrenheit with wind chill. The center provides guests with cots, a kitchen space, recreation areas, and bathroom facilities during their overnight stay. To date, ten individuals in need have used the facility since it opened earlier this month.

"We're committed to ensuring that our most vulnerable residents have access to a warm and safe place during the winter months," said DSS Commissioner Tracy McCaughey. "We're offering not just a place to sleep in comfort, but also information on essential services that can help struggling individuals take those first steps toward long-term stability."

Warming center staff will provide those who are referred to the center with information on available support services and resources through community partners, including mental health, drug/alcohol treatment, and domestic violence services, as well as assistance through DSS, such as Temporary Assistance, the Supplemental Nutrition Program, Medicaid, and Adult Protective Services.

The warming center is intended to provide single guests with temporary refuge from extreme cold. DSS officials encourage those in need of a warm location to contact them during business hours at 585-243-7300 to complete a preliminary assessment for temporary placement.

"Catholic Charities Steuben/Livingston is excited to be partnering with Livingston County on this project," said Amy Patterson, Catholic Charities Steuben/Livingston's chief operating director. "We have dedicated staff working to support those in need by providing a warm location as well as referrals and resources to those utilizing the center. This aligns with our agency's mission to support the most vulnerable populations. A warming center offers a safe and warm place for individuals who otherwise may not have alternate shelter overnight. Offering such services shows our community that we are committed to addressing their immediate needs and supporting those in crisis."

The NYS Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance provided Livingston County with a $300,000 allocation this year to support the setup and operation of the County's Code Blue warming center. The United Way of Greater Rochester and the Finger Lakes provided warming kits for the facility, which included hygiene supplies and essential toiletry items. To help sustain the warming center's operations, DSS officials are encouraging community donations in the form of new socks and undergarments for those warming center guests in need. Donations can be brought to the Livingston County Department of Social Services at 1 Murray Hill Drive, Mt. Morris, N.Y. 14510 during regular business hours from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

To refer an individual to the Code Blue warming center after hours, County officials are asking residents to contact the Livingston County Sheriff's Office on their non-emergency phone line at 585-243-7100.

The warming center will close when Code Blue season ends. In general, this is when temperatures remain over 32 degrees Fahrenheit with wind chill for five consecutive days.

For more, contact the Livingston County Department of Social Services at 585-243-7300.

NY State Senator Pam Helming Attends Rally with Local Highway Superintendents to Advocate for CHIPS Funding

New York State Senator Pam Helming recently participated in a rally alongside local Highway Superintendents and community members to advocate for increased CHIPS (Consolidated Local Street and Highway Improvement Program) funding in the state budget. This vital funding is essential for our municipalities to effectively maintain, repair, and enhance local roads, bridges, and other critical infrastructure.

Senator Helming said "Safe and accessible roads, bridges, and culverts impact every single person living, working, and visiting our state. And while the hardworking men and women of our local highway departments take pride in working together to stretch limited resources and keep our roadways in working order, they are not magicians. Under the Governor's proposed budget, critical state funding known as CHIPS will remain flat, forcing local governments to cut back on many necessary projects as construction costs and the price of unfunded state mandates continues to rise. I was proud to stand beside many of our local highway superintendents and their incredible teams to call upon the state to increase its investment in this crucial program and acknowledge once and for all that our local roads are essential."

Town & Village Update

Mayor, Supervisor Weekly Update As Of Friday, February 28th
Tourism In Livingston County, Rabid Fox In Honeoye Falls

Village of Honeoye Falls

Rick Milne, Mayor:

"Just a couple of points to go over. As I mentioned last week, the Village is in its full budget swing time of the year. So again, just as a reminder to people, we do have budget workshops every Saturday morning, beginning at 7:30 in the morning. If anyone wants to attend, they are open to the public. We generally do not take any questions and answers during these first couple of meetings, but then always open it up to questions as that process moves forward. These are truly just workshops where we're going through line by line of the budget, and what we need to be prepared for the upcoming year. So those are each Saturday in March, beginning at 7:30 in the morning. Later meetings could get canceled, if we feel that we have a good budget and we're ready to move forward. We will put an ad in the Sentinel and on our pages to notify people that the meetings are over. Then, of course, there is always a budget public hearing before that budget is approved. So, people can always address the budget. They can always come in and look at the budget. Once that budget is being prepared, if you want to look at it, you're welcome to come in the office. The clerk or deputy clerk will show you a copy of it. You can peruse that budget, ask questions, or leave questions, etc, and we'll get back to you. And with that, elections for the Village are March 18th. It's a Tuesday, beginning at noon to 9 pm here at the Village Hall. So that is our election for a mayor and 2 trustees.

A couple of things that we've been looking at over the last couple of days. Mother Nature has been incredibly strong this year with a deep cold and the snow, and then it warms up and refreezes. The Honeoye Creek has been iced over pretty well, but we are starting to now get some flow with the warmer weather that's happened, and with that, some of the ice starts breaking up and takes down some trees, we have ice dams in the Village in Honeoye Creek. Normally there's a stretch of Ontario Street where the creek is flowing right next to those homes on Ontario Street where there's some backups. Every year it gets a little bit dicey where we have these ice jams that really impact some of the break walls that people have built. Sometimes the ice overflows the creek banks and nears the home, so it's always a little bit nerve wracking for the residents. We certainly understand that. We are keeping an eye on it. There's not a lot that the Village can do, but we do talk with the DEC. We do keep an eye on it, and we also suggest that people are always in contact with their insurance carriers, because that's really who would have to get involved if there's any damage. But we're having that issue right now, and we're hoping that with this warmer weather some of those dams will kind of break up and start flowing quickly. Once they do start flowing, the residents normally hear that as well, because it can be quite loud when these ice dams break, and that water and the ice starts flowing over the falls.

Another thing that's come up over the last couple of days, we believe we have a rabid fox in the Village. We have had a couple of people in the area of Maplewood Avenue walking and being attacked by a fox. We believe that same fox came up on a person's front porch on Thursday evening when they were outside, and they had to fend that fox off. So, we have called the DEC. Both the Town of Mendon and the Village of Honeoye Falls have been active with this. We've called the DEC, we've actually called the Department of Health and the Monroe County Sheriff's Department, just to make sure everyone was aware. I wanted to make sure I got it out there today as we don't know how fast this fox is going to be caught. We don't know if it will be caught. But if someone does encounter a fox, and the fox is aggressive to the human, which is very abnormal, as normally a fox is going to run the other way, but if you encounter a fox in the Village of Honeoye Falls area and you are concerned. If you get bit, obviously seek medical attention right away. But we do want you to call the Department of Health, the Department of Health's Hotline number during the day would be 753-5171. After hours (after 5 pm) that would be 753-5905, obviously area code 585. That's the Department of Health. If you encounter a fox, you actually touch it. If it bites you, obviously, you need to get medical attention but definitely call the Department of Health. Again, I want to state that we have called the Department of Environmental Conservation. They have responded to the area, they are looking for the fox, and there may have to be trappers hired to come in and put up traps, etc. So, we're not sure how this is all going to pan out but we just want people to be aware of it specifically in the Village of Honeoye Falls right now, because when foxes come near people and they don't back down, that's not a normal thing, so be wary. Be alert. Watch your pets that are outside and watch your small children outside as well right now. It's just better to be safe than sorry."

Mayor's Update as of March 3: "Late last week, the Village was notified by local residents that a fox had aggressively attacked two walkers on Maplewood Avenue in the Village. The fox did indeed bite one of the walkers and luckily the individual was wearing heavy boots and was not harmed. Within 24 hours, another resident who was on his front porch had what is expected to be the same fox aggressively approach him on his porch. He was able to defend it off with an umbrella stick and luckily was not bitten.

In response to direct contact, the Village of Honeoye Falls contacted the Department of Environmental Conservation as did the Town of Mendon.

As a follow-up, I contacted the Department of Health and the Monroe County Sheriff's Department to not only make sure they were aware of the situation, but to accept advice from them as to next steps.

The DEC did respond as well and tried to locate the fox and looked in some areas that would easily serve as a den. No fox was found at that time.

Over the weekend, a deceased fox was indeed found in the same general area. It appeared to be a healthy animal by appearance, and there were no evident injuries to the animal.

The DEC did take control of the animal and was going to turn it over to the Monroe County Department of Health for testing.

At this point in time, we do not know the test results as of yet, but will be contacted by both the Department of Health and DEC with follow up when those test results are available.

Obviously, there is no way to tell 100% if this is indeed the fox that attacked the individuals or not at this time. And there is also some confusion as to if it was a gray fox or a red fox that attacked the people, as one of the descriptions stated that there appeared to be some gray and red on the upper part of the body and red on the bottom.

As of Tuesday, March 4, officials received word that test results were positive for rabies on the fox".

Town of Lima

Mike Falk, Supervisor:

"I got to approve the annual financial report online on the comptroller's website. So, our AFR is done and submitted ahead of the deadline, and the 90-page report will be available on the comptroller's website. You can look up the Town of Lima. They'll be posting it up there. We also have a paper copy that you can come to the Town Hall and view if you would like, but that is the annual financial report for 2024.

The Town Board is going to be meeting on Tuesday, March 4th. That's Fat Tuesday, and we'll be talking Water District 5, and holding a vote on a district formation of some kind, along with other insanely interesting issues. You should attend.

The tourism board at Livingston County has a bunch of things going on. There are grants available for tourism-oriented businesses, restaurants, festivals and places that bring tourism in for retail sales, etc. The grants are for digital marketing and the grant applications are due on March 14th. So, a quick amount of time, it's not a very heavy lift to fill out the form. If you would like to participate in that and you're a Livingston County business, festival, etc. You can email info@growliveco.com. Also, if you're considering starting a business, they are going to be offering co-starter classes, starting the 12th of March. Again email info@growlivco.com.

Lastly, the 'I Voted' sticker contest is still going on, held by the Livingston County Board of Elections. This is open to grades 5 through 12, and the deadline to submit your artwork to be the 2025 election sticker is March 31st. You can call the Livingston County Board of Elections if you want to enter or talk about the contest at (585) 243-7090."

Village of Lima

John Skiptunas, Mayor:

"I'd like to thank our public works team for doing such a great job on snow and ice management with the crazy weather we've been having. Great job everyone!

Village Board elections are March 18th at Lima Town Hall from noon till 9pm. 2 seats are available to be filled. Candidates will be canvassing our Village with introductions and campaign agendas soon.

I will be hosting a Meet the Mayor event at the Lima Ambulance Base on Saturday, March 1st at 1pm. I'll be presenting a State of the Village address highlighting completed projects, projects in progress and agenda items to come. All are welcome."

[Publisher's Note: Mayor Skiptunas submitted this in time to be published in last week's edition, but the Publisher forgot to put it in.]

Each Friday, the SENTINEL invites the mayors and supervisors from the towns and villages it covers to participate in a video call that airs every Sunday at 1pm on our Facebook page and YouTube channel. The edited transcript of that call appears on this page. We don't require participation, as many of these elected officials have full-time jobs outside their political office. We do ask them, if they would like to, to email us an update so we can include it on this page. Here is the complete list of invited municipalities:

PASSAGES

MELINDA J. SMITH

Melinda Jill Smith passed into the arms of the Lord at the age of 45 on Saturday, February 22, 2025. She was a devoted wife, a loving mother, a cherished daughter, sister, aunt and friend. She lived her life with grace, strength and unwavering faith. She had a deep love for Jesus, which shined through in the kindness she showed to everyone she met. She was a shining example of servanthood, love and loyalty, always putting others before herself.

Her passion for life was evident in the things she loved most–her love of God, His creation, her husband and soul-mate, Dan, and kids, Kellan and Harper. They were her greatest joy and she poured herself into them.

She leaves behind a legacy of love, kindness, and faith that will live on in the hearts of all who knew her. Our hearts soar when we consider that she is in the presence of the Lord. We remind ourselves that while this is the end of her physical life on earth, it is the beginning of an eternal beautiful journey for her.

She leaves behind an adoring family, including her parents, Larry and Jeanie Nihiser and her four doting big sisters, brothers and extended family.

Family received friends on Friday, February 28, 2025 at Merton H. Kays Funeral Home, 59 Monroe Sreet., Honeoye Falls. A service to honor and celebrate her life was held at Wheatland Community Church, 6746 East River Road, Rush on Saturday, March 1, 2025. In lieu of flowers, friends may make a contribution to Compass Care (https://www.compasscare.info/).

MARY ELLEN BROCK

Mary Ellen Brock passed away on Friday, January 24, 2025, at age 88. She was born on August 20, 1936 in Rochester, NY to the late Henry and Carmine Fresher Egan. She was also predeceased by her husband of 68 years, George, (Veteran US Army); her daughter Sue, son George and her brother Edward. She is survived by her son John (Sue) Brock, her daughter Jan, who was her parent's caregiver for many years; three grandchildren, Ryan, Cory and Evan and many nieces and nephews. She worked at Loblaws, Star Market Supermarket, RF Communications and Wegmans on Mt. Hope Avenue, where she received employee of the month a few times. She enjoyed talking to people coming through her line at the register. She loved bowling in her younger days. She also loved being with family and friends at parties or just meeting up at places like the Elks Lodge, Moose Lodge, the Loop Lounge, VFW or anywhere Genny Light was sold.

Friends may join her family as she is reunited with her husband George (with Military Honors) for burial, in Western NY National Cemetery, 1254 Indian Falls Road, Corfu, NY on May 30, 2025, at 11 am. (Meet at office parking lot 10:45 am). A Celebration of Life for both will follow at the Rochester Elks Lodge, 3525 East Henrietta Road at 1:30. Arrangements were by Merton H. Kays Funeral Home in Honeoye Falls.

W. SMITH O'BRIEN

W. Smith "Smittie" O'Brien of Scottsville passed away peacefully on Monday, February 24, 2025. He was a devoted husband, father, and grandfather. He will be deeply missed by his family and all who knew him. The son of the late William Smith and Elizabeth O'Brien, he was born on February 3, 1944, in Rochester, NY. He was a proud alumnus of McQuaid Jesuit High School (Class of 1962) and was a long-time employee of Weber's Dairy and Upstate Milk. When he wasn't embellishing a story, he could be found on the waters of Lake Ontario, where he frequently sailed at the Rochester Yacht Club. He was passionate about skiing and has been described as a vision of strength and grace on the slopes. He enjoyed music and frequented concerts at the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra.

A talented handyman, he spent years rebuilding and transforming his home with a high level of skill and craftsmanship that can be seen in every corner of his Blue Pond residence.

He was a devoted husband to his best friend Jean O'Brien, with whom he shared over 52 years of love and companionship. As a father, he was a constant example of integrity and support to his three children: Kathleen (Brendan) Houghton, Kelly (Patricio Sorensen) O'Brien, William (Chausey Ashey) O'Brien. He was proud of his seven grandchildren, Connor, Maggie, Max, Liam, Ian, Wendy, and Owen, each of whom he adored and cherished.

He was the oldest brother to his four siblings: Michael (Marjory) O'Brien, Brendan (Eileen) O'Brien, Kevin (Linda) O'Brien, and Sean O'Brien. These five brothers had a special bond based on mutual respect, humor, family lore and camaraderie, they were also the foundation for the broader Lake Road band of brothers.

He will be remembered for his kindness, loyalty, integrity and his ability to tell a great story. His family will forever remember his dedication to work and family and treasure the memories that he created.

Calling hours were held on Sunday, March 2, 2025 at Alvah Halloran & Son Funeral Home, 2125 Chili Ave, Rochester. A funeral Mass took place on Monday, March 3, 2025 at St. Mary of the Assumption Church, 99 Main Street, Scottsville. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to McQuaid Jesuit or the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra in his memory or a charity of your choice.

RUTH WIK

Ruth Wik, 90, of Pittsford, passed away on Thursday, February 20, 2025. She was a beloved mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, sister, aunt and friend. She was surrounded by her family when she departed this world.

She was born in Brooklyn NY in 1934 to Lillian and Max Garber. She was raised in Brooklyn with her three sisters. Her family was very loving and close to each other. That love was then extended to her own family and friends by her examples of kindness, humility, support, sacrifice and devotion. She and her husband, George, raised their children in Hightstown NJ before moving to Rochester to be near family.

Predeceased by her loving husband, George, she is survived by their three children Barbara (Glenn) Miller, Deborah (Daniel) Meess, and Leonard (Diane Carlson) Wik. Her legacy of love lives on through her grandchildren: Stephen (Jeannine) Miller, Rebecca Miller, Brian (Kirsten) Meess, Karen (Nick) Meess Tuttle, Joseph (Katie) Wik, Maria (John) Wik Reuter and Erik (Eden) Carlson. She was predeceased in death by her parents, Lillian and Max Garber and sisters Beatrice Garber and Miriam Cooperman. Her sister and brother-in-law Linda and Ben Gordon, brother-in-law and sister-in-law Leonard and Betty Wik survive her as well as many nieces and nephews.

She was particularly happy she lived to see eight great-grandchildren join the family: Sophie and Maxwell Miller, Calvin Tuttle, George and Annmarie Wik, Caroline and Charles Reutter and Kristopher Carlson.

She was affectionately known as 'GMa' by her grandchildren. They have many happy memories of playing board games, learning favorite family recipes, working on puzzles, and laughing with her at family reunions on Seneca Lake.

She moved to Rochester in 1999 and has made many friends through her social activities. She was a member of Temple B'rith Kodesh, and multiple mahjong, canasta, euchre and rummikub games. She was a friend to all and lived by the phrase 'The More the Merrier'.

Her last year of life was spent in Hawthorne Assisted Living at St. John's Meadows. The family would like to extend a sincere thank you to the staff at Hawthorne for their devotion and loving care of our mother.

In lieu of flowers please consider donations to the National Heart Association or the Alzheimer's Association (in memory of her husband, George).

She will be forever loved and deeply missed. May she rest in peace, reunited with her beloved George and all family members who went before her.

Calling hours were Sunday, February 23, 2025 at Keenan Funeral Home, 7501 Pittsford Palmyra Road, Fairport. A Service was held at Keenan Funeral Home on Monday, February 24, 2025.

JAMES R. HAMILTON

James R. Hamilton of Pittsford passed away on Sunday, February 16, 2025 at the age of 79, peacefully of pancreatic cancer at home with family by his side.

He is survived by his loving wife of 52 years, Linda; daughters, Heather (Don) Dowitsch of Canandaigua and Erin (Sean) Smith of Webster; sisters, Judi (Joe) Manfre of CT and Patti (Art) Bergman of NC; brothers, Tom (Patti) Hamilton of NC and Edwin (Tammara) Hamilton of CA. He was an amazing "Pappy" to his five grandkids, Taylor and Brandon Dowitsch, and Connor, Anya and Brenna Smith. He also leaves many wonderful friends, his cousin Donna Reed of CA and numerous nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews who fondly called him "Uncle Fuzzy".

He was born on January 27th, 1946 in Pittsburgh, PA to the late Hugh and Elizabeth Hamilton. He graduated from Beaver Falls High School, General Motors Institute in Flint, Michigan and served four years in the Air Force. He worked as a mechanical engineer mainly in the automotive industry in Michigan, New Hampshire and Rochester, NY until he purchased Foster's Equipment and enjoyed being his own boss.

He dearly loved his family, friends, sudoku puzzles, travel and especially golf. He walked 18 holes and posted over 100 rounds a year. He was a member of Penfield Country Club since 1989 and served on committees and the board, his latest position being Membership Chair.

A Celebration of Life will be held privately. Those wishing to remember him may consider a donation to Pancreatic Cancer Association of Western New York (pcawny.org) or Rochester Regional Health Hospice (www.rochesterregional.org)

Arrangements were by Dreier-Giltner Funeral Home.

JOHN LAWRENCE PARKER

John L Parker of Pittsford, age 95, died peacefully on February 24, 2025. He was born in Lockport, NY to Dr. Harry L Parker and Helen Thurbon Parker. He was predeceased by his wife, Joan Patterson Parker and by his younger sister, Helen Tukey. He is survived by his five children, Harry Parker, Deborah Parker, Dana Johnson, Douglas Parker, Janet Mackey and by eight grandchildren and two great-grandsons. He is also survived by his wife of 30 years, Nancy V. Brush and her three children, Douglas Brush, James Brush and Suzanne Brush, nine grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

He was a graduate of Culver Military Academy, Hamilton College and Rochester Institute of Technology where he pursued his passion for photography. For 20 years he owned his own offset printing firm, General Color Printing, and after selling the company he was a realtor for more than thirty years. He had several passions, including his family, the family camp in Canada, "fixing things", travelling, and most especially, his sail boat, the "Orenda". He cruised several of the Great Lakes and covered nearly every inch of Lake Ontario. He was a valued member of The Rochester Yacht Club for more than 60 years and never missed a cruise or a good party!

He was a long time member of the First Unitarian Church of Rochester where he served as President of the Congregation and was an avid member of "Bi-Fri", the group of men who fixed everything that needed fixing!!

A memorial service will be held at First Unitarian Church, 220 S. Winton Rd. Rochester, NY 14610, on Saturday, March 22, 2025 at 2:00 p.m. In lieu of flowers, gifts in his memory may also be made to First Unitarian Church. A reception will follow the service at The Hahnemann Club, The Highlands at Pittsford.

KU-YING CHANG

Ku-Ying Chang passed away in her home in Pittsford on February 20, 2025 at the age of 82. She had first moved to Pittsford in 1977.

She was born the second of seven children in Wukang, Hunan in China on August 28, 1942 to Tso-Liang Hsiao and Chi-Mei Chen. The Hsiao family moved to Taipei, Taiwan in 1951. She earned an undergraduate degree in English Literature from National Taiwan University in 1965. She was bright and full of life - as proud of her adventures playing hooky as she was of her good grades.

She immigrated to the United States in 1966 to study History at the University of Massachusetts and the University of Wisconsin. In Madison, she married her husband Hui in 1971.

She was a cherished daughter, sibling, wife, mother, grandmother, aunt, teacher, and friend. She nurtured lifelong friendships and helped to build a vibrant community. She actively engaged with her community, whether it be volunteering at the Pittsford school district, teaching Chinese at the Rochester Chinese School, or hosting an annual Christmas Eve party attended by more than a dozen families. As her children grew older, she studied for her real estate license. She spent a few years working as an agent before relocating for Hui's job to Tokyo, Japan in the mid-1990s. Many of her later years were devoted to caring for Hui who suffered from Parkinson's Disease. Neighbors often saw her gardening in the yard; gardening was her joy and rejuvenated her mind, body and soul. Her close friends relied on her sympathetic ear and she was known by all for her sweet and warm nature.

She was predeceased by her husband Hui and her sister Ku-Lan Hsiao. She is survived by her daughters Hetty and Kathy (Michael), grandson Zeke, her siblings, Ku-Yung, Ku-Huai, Ku-Ling, Ku-Hsiang, and Ku-Chuan and numerous nieces and nephews.

A private memorial service will be held in the spring. Arrangements are by Miller Funeral Home in Henrietta.

The Sentinel Salute to Women's History Month ~ Gilda & Whoopi

BY DEB AND TIM SMITH

Well, it's that time of year again! Yep, just as you're recovering from February's Black History Month hangover, you're immediately rallying for the whimsical Women's History Month mania of March. In 2023 we published our 5th book which was called Walking in a Women's Wonderland ~ An Ultimate Primer to the Historical and the Hysterical. Excerpted from that, this week we'll share the stories of two comedy legends… Gilda Radner and Whoopi Goldberg.

Autographed publicity of Gene Wilder and Gilda Radner for film Haunted Honeymoon. Dated 1986, the authos is Studio and the work is in the public domain because it was published in the United States between 1978 and March 1, 1989 without a copyright notice, and its copyright was not subsequently registered with the U.S. Copyright Office within 5 years.

GILDA RADNER (1946-1989) KEEPING GOOD COMPANY ~ In tracing the timeline to Gilda's success, let's cross the border and head to Toronto for her 1972 acting debut in a production of Godspell in which she co-stars with Paul Shaffer and Martin Short. Not bad company there, but when she joins the National Lampoon Radio Hour, she finds herself surrounded by even bigger names which include Chevy Chase, John Belushi, Bill Murray and Richard Belzer.

So of the seven original members of Saturday Night Live's "Not Ready for Prime Time Players," three are products of that Canadian show. And Bill Murray joins the SNL cast for the second season so that National Lampoon radio show really was the breeding ground for the early glory years of SNL.

SATURDAY NIGHT LIVE ~ When the sketch-comedy series is first being organized by Loren Michael, no one has any idea that it will run for half a century and become the juggernaut we all know today. That being said, Gilda Radner is actually the very first player to be cast for the show on which she appears from 1975-1980.

Right now let's pay tribute to Gilda's greatest recurring SNL characters.

Up on the marquee
for all to come see our countdown of three…

#3 ~ Emily Litella – Wearing a grandma sweater over a frumpy dress, Emily Litella is a bespectacled, hearing-impaired elderly lady who comes on "Weekend Update" to deliver opinionated editorials countering a previous position that has supposedly been taken by the show. The humor is derived from the fact that as Emily's rebuttal progresses, it gradually becomes clear that she has misunderstood the original position to which she is responding.

Here's a typical example where Emily laments, "What is all this fuss I hear about violins on television? It's terrible! Why don't parents want their kids to see violins on television? If they only show violins after 10 o'clock at night the little babies will all be asleep … and they'll end up wanting to play bongo drums and go to Africa and join these rock and roll outfits. I say there should be more violins on television."

At this point Chevy Chase interrupts Emily saying, "That was 'violence' on television, not 'violins.'"

To which Emily offers her go-to response of, "Oh, well that's different… Never mind."

The two SNL cast members who play foil to Radner in these sketches take clearly alternate approaches to dealing with her ineptitude. While Chevy Chase comes off as mildly sympathetic, Jane Curtin becomes annoyed and offers scathing corrections of Emily's miscues prompting the insulted senior citizen to reciprocate by calling Curtin a bitch.

#2 ~ Baba Wawa – This is Gilda's impersonation of newscaster Barbara Walters in which she intentionally overplays the accent to great comedic appeal. Upon Radner's death, Walters shares the perspective that prior to Baba Wawa, comedians had never been inclined to impersonate newscasters but, with her bit, Gilda has managed to start a comedic trend which continues to this very day.

#1 ~ Roseanne Roseannadanna – This Gilda character shares the similarity with Emily Litella that she comes on "Weekend Update" and embarks upon a rambling monologue which eventually results in her being reined in by the anchor. The primary difference in the personas is that while Emily is timidly unassuming, Roseanne is tactlessly grating.

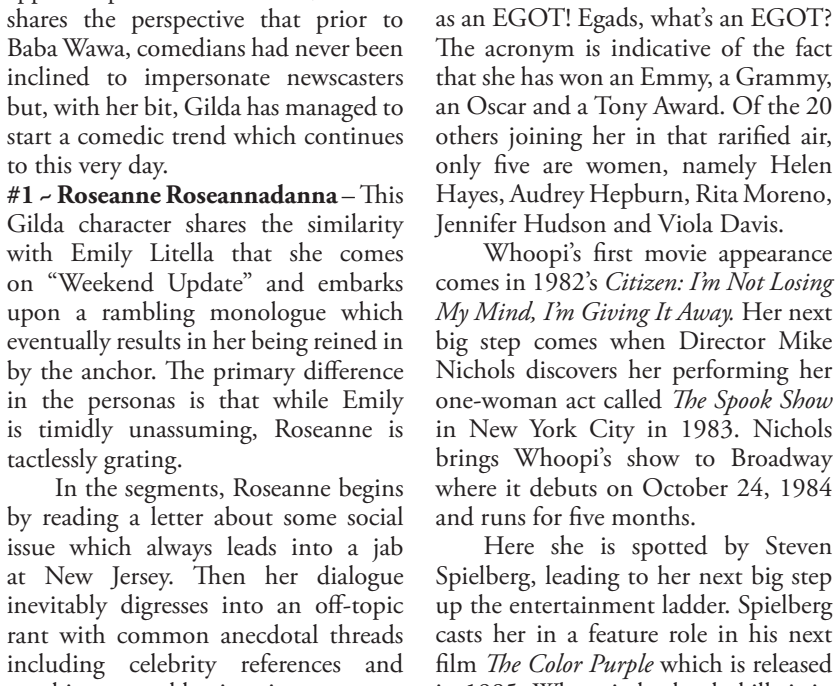

In the segments, Roseanne begins by reading a letter about some social issue which always leads into a jab at New Jersey. Then her dialogue inevitably digresses into an off-topic rant with common anecdotal threads including celebrity references and graphic personal hygiene issues.

When Curtin pulls the curtain on the Roseanne rant and calls her out on the fact that her ramblings have nothing to do with the topic at hand, Roseanne goes to the signature line which comes to serve as the title of Radner's autobiography… "Well, Jane, it just goes to show you, it's always something – if it's not one thing, it's another." The title of that book is It's Always Something.

Gilda leaves an indelible mark on SNL. In Rolling Stone magazine's 2015 article "Saturday Night Live: 145 Cast Members Ranked," she comes in at #9 on the all-time list.

When she leaves SNL, Gilda tragically has only one decade to live. She does make the best of it, launching the successful one-woman stand-up show, Gilda Radner – Live from New York. In 1982 she meets the love of her life, Gene Wilder, when the two are both appearing in the Sidney Poitier film Hanky Panky. They marry in 1984 and enjoy marital bliss until Gilda succumbs to ovarian cancer in 1989.

We'll end with some humor that, because of it's racy nature, the Sentinel can direct you to, but we can't print it. When Gilda left SNL and entered the world of stand-up comedy, she was no longer restricted to the censorship of network TV, so her later material tended to push the envelope. If you'd like to check out our recommendation for the funniest example… go to YouTube and cue up "Let's Talk Dirty to the Animals." It's a great little singalong ditty.

WHOOPI GOLDBERG (1955 -)

A certainly fun fact about Whoopi Goldberg is that she is one of the 21 members of perhaps entertainment's most prestigious club. Only 21 people have won what is sometimes referred to as an EGOT! Egads, what's an EGOT? The acronym is indicative of the fact that she has won an Emmy, a Grammy, an Oscar and a Tony Award. Of the 20 others joining her in that rarified air, only five are women, namely Helen Hayes, Audrey Hepburn, Rita Moreno, Jennifer Hudson and Viola Davis.

Whoopi's first movie appearance comes in 1982's Citizen: I'm Not Losing My Mind, I'm Giving It Away. Her next big step comes when Director Mike Nichols discovers her performing her one-woman act called The Spook Show in New York City in 1983. Nichols brings Whoopi's show to Broadway where it debuts on October 24, 1984 and runs for five months.

Here she is spotted by Steven Spielberg, leading to her next big step up the entertainment ladder. Spielberg casts her in a feature role in his next film The Color Purple which is released in 1985. Whoopi absolutely kills it in her portrayal of Celie, a Black woman in the early 1900's who endures extraordinarily egregious strife in her struggle for survival, and ultimately happiness. Her performance earns her a Golden Globe Award for Best Supporting Actress. Let's go to a bullet list and we'll outline the details on her EGOT Award.

* Emmy Award (2) ~ The View (2009), and portraying Hattie McDaniel in a special (2002)
* Grammy Award ~ Whoopi Goldberg: Original Broadway Show Recording (1986)
* Oscar Award ~ Ghost (1990)
* Tony Award ~ Thoroughly Modern Millie (2002)

Grammy, Tony, Oscar I can do
Emmy Awards, of those, I've got two
It's been a great ride
My cred's been bonafide
All I need is a room with The View

After her appearances in 1992's Sister Act and 1993's sequel Sister Act 2: Back in the Habit, she establishes herself as Hollywood's highest-paid actress. She hosts the Academy Awards on multiple occasions and has been a moderator on the daytime talk show The View since 2007.

Here's a sampling of Whoopi's humor…

* (on God) Cats are talkin' 'bout religion, got all this bullst happenin' and stuff, 'cause you can always tell when God is talkin'. God is really direct. Got those commandments; don't matter what language you speak or what religion you're in, the commandments are the same… Don't lie, 'cause you ain't never gonna remember the bullst you said the night before… Don't [fool around with] your neighbor's wife, 'cause you're gonna be mad as hell when he's [foolin' around with] your wife… Honor your mother and father, 'cause you're gonna need childcare soon. Simple sh*t, you know. God said, "He who is without dog sh*t on your sneaker take the first step on the white rug."
* (on Jimmy the Greek)

Reporter: "Jimmy can you tell us why there are so many, how shall I say it, Black athletes?"

And Jimmy said: "'Cause that's what there is. That's the way it's been set up, that's how it's been from the beginning. We brought big Black bucks and bred them to big Black gals, and made big Black babies who was fast."

(Whoopi's analysis:) Now where is the oh-fense? What's oh-fensive 'bout that? It ain't a lie. He told the goddamn truth. What happens to you on network TV when you tell the truth is "vroom," you gone. Faster than a fart in a dust storm, Jimmy the Greek was outta there.

* (on White people's reactions to Rock Hudson's AIDS diagnosis) When Rock Hudson came out as gay, it was like John Wayne [had sex with] his horse. Whoopi's choice of verbs on that last one was a bit more graphic.

Please join us next week when our National Women's History Month forum will host two SNL alums, namely Amy Poehler and Cecily Strong.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE SENTINEL!
